

Proclamation of Liberty

Under the boots of executioners for decades your weak body is covered with blood If the enemy has not heard your complaints we heard them
we, the women in chains we, the women who suffer from the oppression and ignorance of our time
we heard them
Now, it is time our hands are free from the chains and we come to your aid Believe me that I am of the same voice as you Believe me that though I am not wearing a veil I am saddened by the cruelty of time You and I together against the cruelty of time against the pressure on weak that has chained us and has brought us to our knees against the patriarchy, lawlessness, religion against the gentile mutilation of women will respond with force and will liberate them from the chains Victory is ours
That day has come
That day is today
