

DESTINY

Tell me what to do, destiny.
I am crushed by you, destiny.
My heart is bleeding for you, destiny.
You killed my feelings through life itself.
My last wish got burned like every single wish I ever made.
I lost my love, my life and everything else.
Destiny, you were just standing there by my side and watched me, doing nothing.
Destiny, you are cruel reality.
You have no feelings and you are like a dead soul.
I wished I could have her, just once.
I wanted to sing her the song of my love.
She was my world, my religion, my God.
Destiny, what are you?
